- For me the golden rule when you first start a job is this: listen and learn from colleagues. Ask your colleagues questions if you aren't sure about something and offer to help them. Another tip is that it is better to be punctual and to work hard. Also, be honest and don't make up excuses for not doing something. If you have a job starting soon, remember some of these tips. In the end, you'll be happier and more successful.

- Climate change is one of the most important issues in the 21st century. Actually, the problem is made worse by the fact that we are cutting down a lot of trees. People should think of ways to solve this problem like protecting the world's rainforests and using solar power instead of fossil fuels. Also, using bicycles especially for short journeys reduces air pollution. In my opinion, there should be greater education in schools about the importance of reducing greenhouse gases.
